The Nutrition Reporter™

The independent newsletter that reports vitamin, mineral, and food therapies

Dear Reader,

Now, it's easier than ever...

For you to keep up with the latest research on the benefits of vitamins, minerals, and healthy foods.

Each year, thousands of articles on vitamins, minerals, and dietary therapies are published in medical journals...

Articles about the health benefits of vitamins C and E, coenzyme Q10, chromium, glucosamine...and dozens of other natural substances found in foods...information about how doctors use them to prevent and treat heart disease, high blood pressure, arthritis, cancer, diabetes...and many other conditions.

The Nutrition Reporter Keeps You Up To Date

As a bestselling author, I've been writing about advances in vitamins and minerals for 30 years. You've seen my articles in Alternative Medicine, Better Nutrition, Body & Soul, Let's Live, Modern Maturity, Natural Health, Medical Tribune, and many other magazines, as well as in leading scientific journals.

During this time, I've learned how to dig out practical information about vitamins, minerals, and other nutrients from medical journals.

I describe the best of this research in The Nutrition Reporter newsletter. Each issue summarizes the latest findings...usually before they appear in other magazines.

Furthermore, each article in The Nutrition Reporter is fully referenced to its original medical-journal source. That way, you know where the information is based on solid scientific findings.

Top-notch medical advisors

My medical advisors include Richard Huemer, M.D., a nutritionally oriented physician; Ralph Campbell, M.D., a seasoned pediatrician; Peter Langsjoen, diplomate, American Board of Cardiology; Ron Hunninghake, M.D., medical director of the world's largest nonprofit nutritional medicine center; Marcus Laux, N.D., one of the nation's leading naturopathic physicians; and respected herbalist James A. Duke, Ph.D.

(Please turn over)...

MEDICAL AND SCIENTIFIC ADVISORS
Richard P. Huemer, MD, Lancaster, California • Ralph K. Campbell, MD, Polson, Montana
Ronald E. Hunninghake, MD, Wichita, Kansas • Peter Langsjoen, MD, Tyler, Texas
Marcus Laux, ND, San Francisco, California • James A. Duke, PhD, Fulton, Maryland

No annoying advertising

Unlike many other newsletters, The Nutrition Reporter is not published by a vitamin company, and it does not accept advertising. The Nutrition Reporter publishes just the facts without trying to sell you anything.

Get two free issues

The Nutrition Reporter publishes 10 regular issues a year and at least two bonus issues. It's only $28 for a one-year subscription – that's less than half the cost of almost every other nutrition and health newsletter.

If you subscribe right now, I'll immediately send you two free recent issues – a $5 value – to help you catch up on recent vitamin research you've missed.

Furthermore, you also have my personal money-back guarantee. If you're not completely satisfied, I'll send you a prompt refund for the issues you haven't received.

The Nutrition Reporter is one of the best ways to learn about the latest research on the vitamins, minerals, and other nutrients so important to health. Subscribe today! Complete the form and return it with a check for $28.

Sincerely,

Jack Challem
